

Family and Community Engagement

LEARNING HAPPENS EVERYWHERE

Learning occurs, formally and informally, in school, home and community environments where children, young people and adults feel comfortable, accepted, motivated and challenged. Educators can increase academic achievement of students from diverse groups if they make use of, and celebrate, the knowledge, skills and languages students acquire in the informal learning environments of their homes and communities (Moll & Gonzales).

